VISIT AT THE SHOPS 2018 KEN WRIGHT PINOT NOIRS

Ken Wright says, "2018 continues a string of very warm and very dryvintages. Our vines were very happy for the half-inch drink of water they received mid-September. Rather than a setback in the pace of ripening this rain event got the vines motors running again. We saw all sites physiologically push to balanced maturity which is what happens when Mother Nature provides the perfect scenario. Though we are down 20% in production of Pinot Noir, what we have in our house is deep, dreamy and gorgeous." Come in and sample a selection of these rich and delicious gems with Ken Wright on Saturday, January 18th at both shops.

BANDOL

Mourvèdre is a late-ripening grape variety, and it requires heat and dryness to mature. Bandol is the perfect microclimate to ripen Mourvèdre, as it is located in the terraces above the fishing village of Bandol in Provence. Here vineyards are exposed to warm, coastal weather that allows for late ripening. We love these wines for winter evenings, with stews, cassoulet, and lamb dishes. Lulu Peyraud, who founded Domaine Tempier with her husband Lucien, turned 100 on December 11th, 2017 and thus the vintage is named in her honor, 'pour LuLu'. Taste a selection of these wines on Saturday, January 11th at both shops.

TARIFFS ON WINE & FOOD

Many are in a state of disbelief that the tariffs planned to be imposed of up 100% on EU imports will actually happen. Please help us defend our businesses and write your representative to say no. The loss of allocations from favorite producers will be hard to get back, as other countries without insane tariffs will gladly pick up the slack. Thousands of people who work in the wine and spirits trade may loose their jobs, and many small businesses (such as ours) may not be able to adjust. We ask you to copy the link below into your browser and just fill in your name, address, email, and phone number, and your message will be sent directly to Washington.

2018 Involuntary Commitment

It is no secret that there is an abundance of wine in Washington State. After years of big crop loads with excellent quality, many great values will be arriving in the market. Involuntary Commitment is a project from the winemaking team at Andrew Will Winery. They use only fruit from sources selected by Will and Chris Camarda, and in this case, the 2018 vintage is all from Two Blondes Vineyard. A blend of Cabernet Franc, Cabernet Sauvignon, and Merlot, the 2018 Involuntary Commitment has a striking aroma of tobacco leaf and blackberries.

2017 VINCENT PARIS 'GRANIT 30'

The 2017 Domaine Vincent Paris Cornas 'Granit 30' has blueberries and floral scents, with olive and cracked pepper notes. It is a bold expression of Syrah that is tame in tannin. The name of this wine, 'Granit 30', refers to the slope of the vineyard, as well as the average age of the vines. This is a wonderful winter warmer.

The 2015 Château Lestrille Capmartin is a blend of 90% Merlot and 10% Cabernet Sauvignon, fermented in tank, and aged in oak just long enough so as not to mask the lush Merlot fruit. Perfect as a winter warmer, it has firm tannins and would work well with lamb chops.

2018 Domaine Vacheron Sancerre

Sourced from hillside vineyards around the town of Sancerre, with a mix of chalk and silex soils, the 2018 Domaine Vacheron Sancerre is a stunning example of Sauvignon Blanc. If you like flavors of lemons and limes, sea salt, and crisp pear, then buy this wine to serve with oysters or Crottin cheese. It is simply as good as wines from this appellation can be.

2018 DOMAINE LABBÈ ABYMES

The appellation comes from the French word "abimé" which means broken, and refers to the broken stones in the soil. The Labbè family farms Jacquère grapes on 10 hectares of these rocky slopes. The 2018 Domaine Labbè Abymes has a racy minerality, a saline note, and a rich mouthfeel, making it perfect for fondues.

2016 Fèlsina Chianti Riserva

Sporting a brand new, all black label, the 2016 Fèlsina Chianti Classico Riserva is reminiscent of the Sangioese wines from this estate in the late 1980's. The grape must spends time in stainless steel until March or April. It then goes into Slovenian oak tanks and neutral oak barrels. The result is a wine that has a complex aroma of dried flowers and caneberries. The palate is soft, and a harmonious flavor lingers on the palate.

2017 MICHEL AUTRAN

Michel Autran left a career in medicine to follow his passion for racy, Loire wines. In 2011, he purchased land in Vouvray and began farming it biodynamically. He makes wines that are edgy, filled with bracing acidity, and striking minerality. He chose not to use the Vouvray appellation, opting to declassify to Vin de France. These Chenin Blancs are shockingly good, and will surprise one with their dryness.
